

Contents

Foreword	v
Acknowledgements	vii
Introduction	1
1 Why experiential?	3
The context: marketing communication 3; What is experiential marketing? 5; Traditional approaches are losing effectiveness 8; Experiential marketing: a differentiator 9; The benefits 15; Criticisms: fact and fiction 23; What level of resources? 26; A shift in awareness 28
2 Outsourcing vs in-house	36
In-house 39; Outsourcing to your media or full-service agency 43; Working with a PR agency 46; Working with a sales promotion agency 49
3 BETTER	52
How do you use BETTER? 53
4 IDEA	68
Using IDEA 69; Choosing the idea 73
5 Situation and background	74
SET MESSAGE 74; Situation and background 76

iv Contents

6	Experiential objectives	80
	Examples of experiential marketing campaigns 81
7	Target audiences	91
	Analysing Target audiences 92
8	Message – key communication	113
	Bringing the message to life 116
9	Experiential strategy	122
	STRATEGIES 122; Integrating the selected elements to form the Experiential strategy 127; Scenarios 128; Make the experience memorable and ongoing 135
10	Selected locations and Brand ambassadors	139
	Choosing locations 140; Examples of live brand experience locations 144; Live brand experiences are like theatre productions 152; Brand ambassador selection 152; Recruiting Brand ambassadors 157
11	Systems and mechanisms for measurement	163
	How much to spend on measurement 164
12	Action	172
	Contents of the Action plan 173
13	Gauging effectiveness	192
	Systems and mechanisms for measurement and how they enable Gauging effectiveness 193; Real-time reporting and online client access pages 195; Flexibility and change management solutions 196
14	Evaluation	200
	Introduction 200; The written Evaluation section 202; The campaign Evaluation (post-campaign) 203
15	Interviews	214
16	International case studies	241
17	Conclusion	252
	Appendix 1. Common experiential marketing jargon explained	254
	Appendix 2. Further reading	258
	Index	260