Aarstiderne, 172–174
“abuse of power” phrase, 75–76
Academy Awards, 125 accountability, 20–21, 200 accuracy, 157
acknowledgment, 86, 87
active involvement, 46
active listening, 80–90
for intent/content/language, 88–90
with listening tours, 83–85
and making people feel “listened to,” 85–88
with online communities, 80–83
adjectives, deleting, 153 advertising creative, 185–186
as marketing function, 166
advocacy, 89
Africa, 25–26
Ahonen, Tomi, on managing online communities, 169–170
“alpha fraidy cats,” 12, 65–66
Amazon.com, 111
American Canadian Caribbean, 55, 125–126
American Philosophical Club, 175
Anderson, Brad, on firing customers, 119–120 anxieties, 114–116
aspirations, 108–110
authenticity, 159
avalanche about to roll (talk theme), 112–114
Bailey, George, on being fast and good, 17
Bartz, Carol, on excitement, 131 Battelle, John, on marketing communication, 6 beliefs
authentic, 63
CEO, 18, 72–74
emotional, 38
as talk-worthy theme, 108–110
Bennett, Steve, 73
Best Buy, 119–120, 139
Bethune, Gordon
on making money in airline industry, 135 on pizza metaphor, 104
BlogPulse, 78
blogs, 77–79, 169
Blount, Luther
on American Canadian Caribbean, 55 and vacations, 69
Bono
on AIDS in Africa, 25, 26 and One Campaign text messages, 124 boundaries, 159–160
brain-based learning, 29
Brain Matters (Pat Wolfe), 28–29 Brand, Stewart, 122
branding, 171
brand reputation, 150
Brenneman, Greg, on work ethic, 122 brevity, 136
business literacy, 131
business style of communication, resetting, 131–132 BuzzKiller.net, 142
buzzwords, 142–144

Callings (Gregg Levoy), 98 campaign messages, 56–57
Can Asians Think? (Kishore Mahbubani), 119 Cantalupo, Jim, on McJobs, 196 care, 156
Carl, Walter
  on “categories of listening”, 86–87 on “talk” culture, 163
Carville, James, 198
celebrities, 124–125
Center for Digital Storytelling, 140–141
CEO beliefs, 18, 72–74
Cesari, Jocelyne, on EU communication, 31–32 challenging assumptions, 117, 120, 121 Chan, Isabelle, on Amazon.com, 111 Charles Schwab (company), 82 chief information officer of marketing, 186–187 Chouinard, Yvon
  on his beliefs, 109–110 on walkabouts, 104–105
Churchill, Winston, on inspiring speeches, 30 Clancy, Kevin, on vision/mission and positioning, 53–54 clarity, 133
Clarity Committees, 97–101 guidelines for, 100–101
  participants in, 99
  purpose of, 98
  rules for, 98
Clinton, Bill
  on modeling Coretta Scott King’s behavior, 194 1992 campaign mantra of, 135 speaking style of, 195
Clinton, Hillary Rodham, 195–196
Cluetrain Manifesto, The, 1, 172 Cochran, Johnnie, on acquittal, 136 Collins, Jim, on Carly Fiorina, 67 command-and-control attitude, 151–160 and customer-service mind-set, 154–157 and deleting adjectives, 153 and empowerment, 159–160
  and immersion in company/competitor treatment, 151–153 and new questions, 153
  and rapport-like vs. report-like conversations, 153–154 and teaching, 157–159 communication executive, 165, 176–179 failures of, 129–130
  resetting business style of, 131–132 skills for, 184–185
  see also straight talk communications professionals, 13, 66, 172 Communispace, 81
Communities Dominate Brands (Tomi Ahonen and Alan Moore), 169–170 Computer Associates (CA), 48–50 connecting the dots, 52 content, 89
cell context, 29, 30–32 contrarian perspectives, 117, 119, 121 cosmopolitan marketing, 1–3 “blackout” as inspiration for, 8–10 functions of, 165–167 interesting ideas needed for, 10–11 obstacles to, 12–14 purpose of good, 6–7 sense making as reason for, 17–18 steps to creating, 18–21
  technology as reason for, 15–17 trust as reason for, 14–15 conversational marketing, 205 as important work, 201
  ongoing two-way, 159
  and point of view, 66–69 point of view as provocation for, 46–48 sales decisions influenced by, 7–8 topic patterns of, 19 conversations department, 172–174 conversation strategy, 165, 170–174 conversation-worthiness filter, 202 “conversing companies,” 161–162
Cook, Scott, on savoring surprises, 73 corporate reputation, 150 counterintuitive ideas, 117, 119–120, 121 Craig, Jonathan, on Charles Schwab, 82 culture, “talk,” see “talk” culture Cunningham, Barry, on child within, 43 Cuomo, Mario, on sincerity, 141 customer complaints, acknowledging, 87–88 customers, marketing and, 161 customer satisfaction, 161 customer-service mind-set, 154–157 customer value proposition, 54
Daschle, Tom, on tax cuts, 135
DATA organization, 25
David vs. Goliath, 110–112 decision cycles, 161
Deighton, John, on branding, 171 Democratic Party, 75–76
deprogramming, 151–153
Dertouzos, Michael, on Hillary Clinton, 196 Dietsche, Chuck
  on beliefs and aspirations, 109 on metaphors, 102–103
Digital Alchemy, 111
digital news, 169
digital stories, 187–188
“Doglish,” 130–131
Dove Campaign for Real Beauty, 61
Dove Self-Esteem Fund, 62
Dove (soap), 61–62, 69, 135
Drucker, Peter, on information-based strategy, 168 ear-to-the-ground research, 199, 202 Einstein, David, on Eric Schmidt and Novell, 13 elevator speech, 54
Ellen Tracy (company), 47
EMC, 111, 183–184
emerging trends, 112–114, 184 emotion
  as ingredient for understanding, 17–18 listening for, 75–76
  and meaning making, 37–41
  as meaning-making factor, 29 empowerment, 159–160
Ende, Michael, on listening, 90–91 endorsement, 87–88
engaging point of view, 51
Esordi, Michael, on provoking discourse, 193–194 Event Radar, 80 event-related themes, 126–127 executive attention disorder (EAD), 13 executive communications, 165, 176–179 executive communications professionals, 178 Febreze, 35
Fiorina, Carly, 67
Firepond (company), 8–10
“first person” communication, 133–134
Flemings, Merton C., on future inventiveness, 116
Ford Motor Company, 103–104, 130–131
Foxworthy, Jeff, on note taking, 144
Frankel, Max, on fear as motivator, 115 Franklin, Benjamin, 175 frankness, 141
freshness, 52
friendliness, 155–156
Gardner, Howard, on learning, 41
Garin, Geoff, 75
Gates, Bill, 113
genuineness, 51
Girl Scouts of the USA, 62
Giuliani, Rudy, on CEO beliefs, 72 Godin, Seth and connecting with customers, 1 on inept marketing, 14–15
Goizueta, Robert, on leaving Cuba, 121
Golin/Harris trust survey, 14, 15 “Got Milk” campaign, 35
Gudonis, Paul, 124
Hallmark, 82
Hamel, Gary, on appreciating change, 189
“Hamlet” (William Shakespeare), 34–36 harmony, 157
Hart, Gary, on public trust, 15
Hay, Don, on small vs. large hotels, 111 headlines, 142
Helms, Jesse, 25
Hernandez, Raymond, on Hillary Clinton, 196 Hessan, Diane
  on authenticity, 159
  on boundaries, 160
  on empowerment, 159
  on long-term involvement, 160 on ongoing two-way conversations, 159 on online communities, 81–82, 135
Hewlett Packard, 67
Hill-Popper, Marya, on need for meaning and sense, 27 Hiltzik, Michael, on Medicare marketing plans, 28 hiring process, 188–189
Home Depot, 123
Honda, 185
“How to Put Meaning Back into Leading” (Joel M. Podolny, Rakesh Khurana, and Marya Hill-Popper), 27 how-to stories, 123–124
Hyperion, 19–20
Hyundai, 111–112
IBM, 15–17
  identification with company, 89–90 Ihlwan, Moon, on Hyundai in luxury car market, 111–112 imaginary friends, 137 insights, 165, 166, 168–170 insights group, 169–170 integrated marketing, 150–151 integrity, 156
intent, 89
  interesting conversations, 193–202 and conversations as work, 200 lectures vs., 194–195
  and McDonald’s, 196–197
  steps to creating, 199–200
  with trust and understanding, 197–198 Intuit, 73
Jensen, Eric
  and meaning-making, 26
  on relevance, 29
JetBlue, 135
Jobs, Steve, on The Whole Earth Catalog, 122
Johnson, Mark, on metaphors, 102
Jonas, Han, on anxiety, 115
Journal of Retailing, The, 88
Junta, 175, 176
Kahn, Karen, on Sun’s participation message, 58 Kelleher, Herb
  on emotion, 37
  on love, 37
  on talking about Southwest Airlines, 47
Keller, Ed, on word-of-mouth marketing, 149 Kernan, May
  on authentic beliefs, 63 on connecting with women, 64 on passion for women’s health, 63 on tweaking marketing programs, 65
Khurana, Rakesh, on need for meaning and sense, 27
Kinko’s, 83–85
Krishnamurti, Jiddu, on listening, 76–77
Kusin, Gary, on listening to employees, 83
Lakoff, George, on metaphors, 102
Lambert, Joe
  on point of view, 48
  on stories, 137
Lampe, James, on tire failure, 135 language, listening for, 89, 90 Larsen, Annette Hartvig, on Aarstiderne’s conversation department, 172–174 learning, 41–43
lecturing, 194–195
“leggy” point of view, 53
Lett My People Go Surfing (Yvon Chouinard), 105, 109 Levoy, Gregg, on Clearness Committees, 98 likeable point of view, 53 listening, 74–91
  active, 80–90
  benefits of, 74
  for emotion, 75–76
  Michael Ende on, 90–91
  hierarchy of, 86–88
  for intent/content/language, 88–90
  with listening tours, 83–85
and making people feel “listened to,” 85–88
with online communities, 80–83
passive, 77–80
reasons for not, 76–77
listening tours, 18–19, 83–85 Littky, Dennis, on school improvement, 157–158 long-term involvement, 160
MacLeod, Hugh, on market conversations, 135
Magic of Dialogue, The (Daniel Yankelovich), 76
Mahbubani, Kishore, 119
Mann, Steve, 83
marketing conversational, see conversational marketing customer involvement in, 2 dinner party metaphor for, 11 stalemate of integrated, 150–151 as teaching, 157–159 marketing communication, 6
Marketing Leadership Council, 163
Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), 38–39
McConnell, Patricia, on communication, 130
McDonald’s, 196–197
McElaney, Brian, 34, 35
McJobs, 196–197
McKee, Robert
on honest communication, 131 on motivating people, 38
McLuhan, Marshall, on medium as message, 136 McNealy, Scott
on digital divide, 136
on Internet participation, 59–60 and Sun Microsystems, 57–60 meaning making, 17–18, 23–43 and context, 30–32
and desire for meaning, 24–26 and emotion, 37–41
ingredients of, 28–30
and learning, 41–43
and pattern making, 32
and relevance, 33–36
and understanding, 26–28
Medicare Drug Plan, 27–28
Mehta, Stephanie, on Dick Parsons, 68 memorable point of view, 52 message pyramiding, 56 messaging, 54
metaphors, exploring new, 102–104
Metaphors We Live By (George Lakoff and Mark Johnson), 102 Met School (Providence), 158
Microsoft, 113–114
Miller, Anne, on metaphors, 104 mind-set change to conversational marketing, 147–162
benefits of, 160–162
from command-and-control attitude, 151–160 reasons for, 148–151 mission, 53–54
Momo (Michael Ende), 90–91
Moore, Alan, on managing online communities, 169–170
Moore, Stuart, on innovation, 16
More Space (Todd Sattersten), 134 narrow, going, 101–102
Nasser, Jack
on communication, 130–131 on swimming pool metaphor, 104 National Academy of Science, 115
National Assembly of State Arts Association, 85
NetroCity, 78–80
Network Alliance, 111
New Product News, 175
New York Yankees, 112
Nielsen/Buzz Metrics, 77, 78
NikeTalk, 81
Nine Block Conversation Planner, 107–108, 127, 128, 199, 204
“No More Metaphors” (Anne Miller), 104 notetaking, 144–145
Novell, 13–14
Office of Human Services at University of California, Berkeley, 156–157
One Campaign, 124
ongoing two-way conversations, 159 online communities listening to, 80–83
managing, 169–170
On the Profession of Management (Peter Drucker), 168 orientation process, 188–189
Other End of the Leash, The (Patricia McConnell), 130 outside talent, 190
Ozzie, Ray, on Internet services, 113–114
Parker, Sarah Jessica, 125
Parsons, Dick, on Time Warner, 67–68 “Participation Age,” 59–60 passive listening, 77–80 Patagonia, 104–105, 109 pattern making, 28, 29, 32 Pentland, Alex (Sandy), on social signaling, 39 personalities, 121–123 personal stories, 121–123 Piazza, Lou
on customer and marketing, 161 on customer-service mind-set, 154–155 Podolny, Joel M., on need for meaning and sense, 27 point of view workshops, 91–97 CEO involvement in, 92
checklist for, 208–209
facilitator for, 93
format of, 94–97
location of, 93
participants in, 92–93
timing of, 91–92
tools needed for, 93 point(s) of view, 45–69, 202 characteristics of, 50–53 and Computer Associates, 48–50 conversational communications aided by, 66–69 conversation themes based on, 19–20 at Dove, 61–62
as ideas with emotional beliefs, 38 litmus test for, 210 provoking conversation with, 46–48
purpose of, 47–48
reasons for lack of, 65 shared, 161
at Sun Microsystems, 57–60 vision and mission vs., 53–57 at Women & Infants Hospital, 63–65 political campaign messages, 56–57 Political Dictionary (William Safire), 56 positioning, 54, 169
POV litmus test, 210
Prather, Steve, on Best Buy stories, 139 Procter & Gamble, 35 product “sameness,” 149–150 provocative questions, 153 public relations
as marketing function, 165–166
in “talk” culture, 179–182 Quakers, 98
rapport-like conversations, report-like vs., 153–154
Reagan, Nancy, 181
Real Beauty campaign, 61–62
recognition, 86, 87
Red Sox, 112
Reid, Harry, on abuse of power, 76 relevance, 29, 33–36, 51 report-like conversations, rapport-like vs., 153–154 Republican Party, 75–76 reputation, 150
research
ear-to-the-ground, 199, 202 in new ways, 18
secondary, 169
respect, 156
responsibility for conversational marketing, 12 rewarding innovation, 190 ritual(s) for building “talk” culture, 187–191 digital stories as, 187–188 in hiring and orientation processes, 188–189 and outside talent, 190 rewarding innovation as, 190 and training programs, 190–191
Rodek, Jeff, 20
Rothenberg, Randall, on Academy Awards nominees, 125
Rourke, Bryan, on Michael Esordi, 193
Saegis Pharmaceuticals, 135
Safire, William, on campaign messages, 56 sales communications, 166, 182–185
Sandra, Jaida N’Ha, on listening, 75
SAP, 83–84, 199–200
Sapient, 16, 138
Sarbanes Oxley Act (2002), 33
Schmidt, Eric, 13
Schultz, Howard, 47
Schumer, Charles, 76
Schwab, Charles and customer opinions, 177 on diversification and planning, 47 and middle class investors, 113 and online community, 82 Schwartz, Jonathan
  on access to Internet, 47 on interviewing candidates, 139 seasonal themes, 126–127 secondary research, 169 self-esteem, 62
sense making, 17–18
shared points of view, 161
Sharp, George, on Ellen Tracy clothing, 47
Shaw, Sin-Ming, on Asians and learning, 119
Siemens, George, on knowing vs. meaning, 27
Silverman, Nathan, 142
Silverthorne, Sean, on first-person writing, 134 sincerity, 141
Singer, Margaret, on deprogramming, 152–153 Skinner, Jim
  on challenging assumptions, 120 on McJobs, 197
  on need to talk with people, 196
Snyder, James, on campaign messages, 56
Sony, 185–186
Sorensen, Theodore, on Clintons’ speech styles, 195 sound bites, 134–136
Southwest Airlines, 47, 156
Starbucks, 47
Stengel, Jim and engaging with customers, 1 on meaningful marketing, 28
Stewart, Alan, on conversing companies, 161–162 Stone, Jon, on listening, 75 stories
  digital, 187–188
  gathering, 181
storytelling, 137–141
  at Best Buy, 139
  digital movies of, 140–141 opening questions to facilitate, 139–140 organizing, 140
  personal, 138
  at Sapient, 138
  at Timberland, 139
straight talk, 129–145
  brevity in, 136
  clarifying, 133
  and communication failures, 129–130 and “Doglish,” 130–131
  eliminating buzzwords in, 142–144 with “first person,” 133–134 and headlines, 142
  with imaginary friend, 137 and notetaking, 144–145 and resetting business communication style, 131–132 with sincerity/frankness, 141 with sound bites, 134–136 with stories, 137–141 straight talk style, 202 strategy
  conversation, 165, 170–174 information-based, 168
  muddled, 13
Summers, Larry, on gender gap in science and engineering, 117–119
Sun Microsystems, 57–60, 68, 109, 124–125 Swainson, John, 48–50 swimming pool metaphor, 103–104 talkable point of view, 52 “talk” culture, 163–191 and advertising, 185–186 and conversational marketing functions, 165–167 executive communications in, 176–179 and insights, 166, 168–170 and public relations, 179–182 questions for building, 164 rituals for building, 187–191 and sales communications, 182–185 strategies for conversation in, 170–174 and technology, 186–187 two-way involvement programs in,
Talks and Dialogues (Jiddu Krishnamurti), 76–77 “talk worthiness” theme(s), 107–128 of anxieties, 114–116
of aspirations and beliefs, 108–110 of avalanche about to roll, 112–114 of contrarian/counterintuitive/challenging assumptions, 117–121 of David vs. Goliath, 110–112 of glitz and glam, 124–126 of how-to stories, 123–124 of personalities and personal stories, 121–123 seasonal/event-related, 126–127 Tannen, Deborah, on rapport-like vs. report-like conversations, 153–154 targeting, 169
teaching, marketing as, 157–159 Teaching with the Brain in Mind (Eric Jensen), 26 teamwork, 157
technology
and chief information officer of marketing, 186–187 conversational marketing made possible by, 15–17
as marketing function, 166 technology tools, 19 thinking more narrowly, 101–102 37Signals, 46
Thomas, Landon, on executive communications, 177 thoroughness, 157
Timberland, 139
time Warner, 67–68
TiVoCommunity.com, 81
Tomlin, Lily, on being somebody, 46 training programs, 190–191 transactional communication, 67 Trend Search tool, 78 trust, 14–15, 198
truth, 51
Tuck School of Business at Dartmouth College, 179
“Twelve Beliefs,” 95–96
2006 Medicare Drug Plan, 27–28
two-way involvement programs, 165, 174–176 Unilever, 82–83
“uniquely ME!” program, 62 unity, 157
Utne, Eric, on provocative questions, 153 values, 54
Van Den Hoogen, Ingrid, on uniqueness in market, 58 Virgin Atlantic, 156
vision, 53–54
visual search maps, 78–80 walkabouts, 104–105
Walker, Rob, on beauty and marketing, 62
Warmenhoven, Daniel, on Network Appliance vs. EMC, 111
Washor, Elliot, 158
Weiss, Alan, on flying barn metaphor, 103
Welch, Jack
on candor, 141
e emotive style of, 37
and employee involvement, 160 on passion, 38
“What We Believe” questions, 96, 206–207
“What Women Want” program, 64
Whole Earth Catalog, The, 122
Whole Foods, 156
Whyte, David
on conversations as work, 200
Winning (Jack Welch), 141
Wolfe, Pat, on sense-making, 28–29
Women & Infants Hospital (Providence, Rhode Island), 63–65, 69 WOMMA (Word of Mouth Marketing Association), 149 word-of-mouth marketing, 148–149, 180
Word of Mouth Marketing Association (WOMMA), 149 World Café Community, 84–85
Wyss, Bob, on first-person writing, 134
Yankelovich, Daniel, on action vs. dialogue, 76
Yankelovich “State of Consumer Trust” study, 14
Young, Robin, on active listening, 85–86
Zelen, Alison, on online communities, 82
Zisman, Michael, on innovation, 15–16