- Examples of different types of advertising.
Advertising forms one component of the promotion mix. It has become very popular and useful and has reached the status of an independent discipline. It has grown at a very fast pace and has become a special field of study.

Promotion Mix consists of:

(i) Advertising: It is a non-paid personal form of presentation and promotion of ideas, goods, services by an identified sponsor.

(ii) Personal selling: It is an oral presentation for the purpose of sale.

(iii) Sales promotion: It is an immediate inducement that adds extra value to the product.

(iv) Publicity: It is the management of functions, that helps public to understand the policies of the organization.

In this chapter, we shall deal extensively with Advertising only. It has been derived from the Latin word ‘Adverto’ which means to turn around, to draw attention to any subject or purpose.

Definition

It is a paid and non-personal form of presentation and promotion of ideas, goods or services by an identified sponsor. There is also an identified Media and message behind every advertisement. The advertiser tries to spread his message and ideas to the prospective customers and diffuse information into them. By this method, he tries to popularise the products/services which is the basic aim of the activity.

1.2 Nature of Advertising

Advertising is an important element of Promotion Mix and it is a process which gives information to the masses about products/services. It is a paid publicity sponsored by the advertiser. It is a persuasion which is controlled and influences the target audience. Its nature includes:

(i) Element of marketing Mix. It is also an important element of marketing Mix which includes the 4 Ps—Price, Product, Promotion and Physical distribution. A proper Promotion Mix is necessary for the advertisement to be effective.

Personal selling involves carrying of the messages of the product to consumers by individual salesman and make them purchase the product.

Sales promotion It is the technique of motivating the customers to purchase the product. The motivation is brought about by offering cash discount, tax deduction, free items and other incentives. Sales promotion adds value to the product “Buy two take one free” etc.

Publicity is not paid by the sponsor. Publicity comes automatically. It can be positive or negative publicity on which the individual or the incident publicised has no control.

Advertising agency undertakes the writing of the message and charges for the same. It helps the advertiser in all possible ways and integrates its effort with that of the company or the advertiser. The advertising agencies and its function are dealt with in a separate chapter XIV at the end of the book.

Sponsor is a person who pays for the advertisement. He is identified and discloses the ideas, message and information to be advertised.

Persuasion The message is persuasive and informative. It is creative as well. The message attracts the attention of the audience. It is an essential factor in advertising. It has also been dealt later in the book.

Control The time, place, message and direction of advertising is controlled to make it effective and purposive. Advertisement can be controlled but publicity cannot.

Target Group Advertising aims at a target group of audience, while framing an advertisement target groups are considered. However, it can reach both target and non-target groups.

1.3 Scope of Advertising

The scope of Advertising is increasing everyday

Advertising has a very wide scope in marketing and in the social system. The scope of advertising is described on the basis of activities included under advertising and their forms and systems, objectives and functions. These include the Message—which has been discussed earlier.

Media—has also been discussed in detail.

Merchandise—It is the buying and selling of the product-advertisement covers the attributes of the product to be sold. The outstanding qualities of the product should be assessed and exposed with emphasis. New and existing products are advertised to popularise them. A firm is considered as an important source of advertising.
Advertising Functions: No product can be sold without some form of advertising.

- Advertising creates demand.
- Promotes marketing system.
- Helps middleman.
- Builds image for the organisation.
- Makes customer aware of the price and attributes of the product leading to greater sales.
- Brings awareness in the masses.
- Consumer demand can be assessed by marketing researchers and advertising research.
- It helps in expanding the market.
- It helps the middleman to easily sell the product.
- It brings customers and sellers together.
- Advertisement is economical when targeted at the masses.

Advertiser is the most important person as he is the customer and spends money on it. He gives employment to a lot of people and supports the advertising agencies. The advertiser also has a great social responsibility to create a sound social and economic system.

Objective. The advertising objectives are many in number and dealt later in this book. However, we shall mention a few:

- To increase sale.
- To create awareness and interest.
- Establishing and sustaining the product.
- To help middleman.
- To persuade, to remain and inform the masses.

Activities. The activities included are mass communication, carrying message, image building. It also persuades and reminds. The activities should be performed regularly and economically.

Art & Science. Management is both an art and science and Advertisement being a part of marketing is also an art. It creates, it requires experience. It is a science because it is based on certain social-psychological factors. Cause and effect relationship are studied in advertising. The effect of advertising is also studied by experimentation. The results of advertising can be measured. It is tested on scientific principle as well.

Therefore, we see that the scope of advertising is large and varied.

Different Dimensions of Advertising

There are a number of books written on advertising and they cover different dimensions.

(a) Social dimension of advertising: It informs the society of various products available, their technology, uses and how the society can benefit from new innovations, like credit cards, debit cards, golden cards, global cards, mobile phones, travel offers etc. Advertising also educates the people and the society against hazards of life. Cancer, “Smoking is injurious to health”, hazardous driving, “Better late than never”. Similarly, we have drive against pollution, against population explosion etc. Advertising should not deceive the society. It should not manipulate the consumers against their will. They can get exploited by sex appeal.
(b) Economic dimensions: A lot of money is spent on advertising specially when expensive Media like T.V. is used to spread the message. There are various media which can be used. A lot of employment is generated as people get involved in copy writing mission, Message, Media, Money, Measurement of advertising effectiveness etc. are coordinated. The most important thing to consider is how much money is to be spent on various campaigns.

Advertising makes the consumer aware of products and services and provides information for making right decisions. It can encourage consumption and foster economic growth. Advertising makes entry possible for products and brands into the market. With larger demand it leads to economies of scale in production, marketing and in distribution.

(c) Psychological aspects: One aspect of psychological advertising is that drinking of Alcohol, Beer, Wine should not be targeted on the children or those below the age of 21. Women in society are also critical about absence ads and promoting sexual permissiveness in the advertisement i.e., Calvin Klein. There is a lot of criticism on advertising against sexual appeals and nudity. They demean women as being sex objects. Such ads can be for cosmetics Lingerie and other products used by women.

When a consumer tries to buy a product. He has a lot of choices before him. He gets guided by the family, by friends, by advertisements, by salesperson and the consumer gets confused and often feels that he has made a wrong choice. He undergoes both pre and post purchase dissonance and the marketeer tries to remove his anxiety by reinforcing his choice.

(d) Communication task: Advertising communicates and captures the attention of the buyer. It communicates through stories, through episodes, through tables and charts. The communication must be interpreted in the same manner that it is intended. It also brings attitudinal changes and changes the faiths and beliefs of the consumer.

(e) Triangle of communication: The triangle shows that the advertiser has resources which helps him to create messages. These messages reach the audience with the help of a media. The audience is exposed to the message to a certain extent and also gets distracted by many factors like noise and other work. The audience then responds to the message and the feed back goes to the advertiser. This leads to researches by the advertiser and his agency.
1.4 Types of Advertising

Ethical advertising
Advertising must follow certain moral principle, certain rules and should not degrade or adversely comment on the other products and brands. It should highlight the positive points of its own products and be of good standard. It should not be offensive and in bad taste. It should not predict the sex of an unborn child and keep away from the unwanted practices adopted by the advertisers.

Advertising should not be untruthful, deceptive and should not misguide the consumers. Some companies advertise about their 2 wheelers and 4 wheelers vehicle that they will cover amount of kms per litre when in practice the kms covered are much less. The customer gets deceived by these advertisements. Sometimes, advertisers have made false claims or failed to award prizes promised in sweepstakes or contests.

The problem of untruthful advertising and promotion exists at the local level and in specific areas such as mail order, telemarketing and other forms of direct marketing.

Therefore:

(i) Be truthful, should reveal the truth and significant facts.
(ii) Substantiative should substantiate with proofs e.g., Kapil Dev “Boost is the secret of my energy”.
(iii) Be non-comparative.
(iv) Give real and true guarantees
(v) Avoid false claims
(vi) Adhere to taste and decency. Should keep away from offensive and untrue publicity.

Informative Advertising
This gives information about the products, their features, their style, their value, price and availability. It educates the customer of its nutritional values e.g., Yogurt has low chloestrol, Soffola refined oil has less fat and more nutritional value.

Persuasive Advertising
It is done to persuade the customer to buy the advertiser’s products. In this there are many ways of persuading the consumer. If a person has outside work and is mainly engaged in outside activities, he is persuaded to buy a cell phone (Mobile) so that he is well informed even when he is out of the office. Earning members of the family are persuaded to buy insurance policies, not only for themselves, but also for the safety of their family members. People are persuaded to buy safety alarms for their houses, for their cars as a measure of security.

People are also persuaded to keep firearms for their safety. Other products that sell on persuasion could be flashlights, cameras, dictaphones etc. Persuasive advertising is done in the nature part of PLC and it often lead to Comparative Advertising. While persuading the customer to buy the advertiser’s products, statistics and performance of other products in general are also shown, so that the customer makes a choice. An example of comparative advertising in McDonald v/s Burger King, Pepsi v/s Coca Cola.

Reminder Advertising
This is done with mature products like coca cola and mature products of Hindustan Lever Ltd etc. This is done at the maturity stage of the PLC (Product life cycle). This is done with great frequency. Many advertisement are released in a short period of time so that the consumer is reminded of the product and its benefits constantly and at short intervals of time.
Consumer Advertising

Trade Advertising
This is directed at the whole salers, distributors and retailers. The goal is to encourage channel members to stock promote and resell the manufacturer’s products to customers. Channel members are also given incentive for the same.

Advertising for Image Building
Sometimes advertising is done for building the image of the company. This is done by highlighting their social responsibilities. To build an image the company keeps in mind the factors of pollution and safety. It keeps away from harmful activities. Pays attention on the quality of goods, price and availability of the products.

INFORMATIVE ADVERTISING

Advertising for Positioning
The company positions its product to a target audience by juggling its marketing mix. The performance of the sales is analysed and the product is compared with other leading products and is positioned by modifying the product and price to compete with them. This is also done by perceptual mapping technique.

Advertising for Attitudinal Change
The main aim of advertising is to bring attitudinal changes in the minds of the consumer. It is done by imparting knowledge to the consumer. His emotions are touched and played with the feeling of likes and dislikes towards objects, are handled in a manner that leads to action/purchase.

Reinforcement Advertising
Also known as Repetitive Advertising and the frequency of the advertising is increased.

Retention Advertising
It is done in the last stage of PLC when the product is in the decline stage and has to be revived.

Collective Advertising
e.g., SAIL eggs and milk being advertised collectively. Two products are being advertised together to get the advantage cost and area etc.
Cooperative Advertising
This is done jointly by the manufacturer and dealers. They share the media cost and both get benefitted.
